Product description

Used steel stacking bin, conforming to Euronorm 1000 x 800 mm. The bin is designed to be picked up by both pump truck and forklift truck. With lifting eyes, not certified for lifting. With a capacity of 350 litres, this bin offers ample storage space for various goods or materials. The Euronorm 1000 x 800 mm refers to the standard dimensions of a pallet or container, namely the length of 1000 mm and width of 800 mm. This size is beneficial in logistics, storage and transport, as it ensures compatibility and efficiency when stacking, storing and transporting goods. This dimension is recognised and used worldwide, making it easier to move goods between different countries and industries without the need for packaging modifications.

Note! The top layer of the internal bottom contains signs of use and dirt.
